 Brisbane Arson: Cal Fire Announces Suspect Nabbed

BRISBANE, CA — A person has been arrested for arson following a grass and brush fire Thursday afternoon in Brisbane, a Cal Fire division chief said. The fire was reported at 12:51 p.m. near Valley Drive and South Hill Drive.

Cal Fire Division Chief Rich Sampson said San Mateo County sheriff's deputies arrested a person who was at the scene of the fire, which burned less than an acre.

Sampson said firefighters suppressed it quickly and fortunately there was no wind.

Other fires have occurred in the area. The last one burned hundreds of acres.

The areas that are burning are mostly empty hills that are covered in dry shrubs and residential areas. Have you ever been to LA?

I have no idea if this is arson, or who might it be, for what goal yet.

But hypothetically if you were an Arsonist that really wanted to burn area A, wouldn't you also consider burning Areas B + C as well?

This accomplishes 2 things:

- Stretch fire response resources thin, ensures that your real target gets more destroyed.
- Cover your tracks by hiding whatever motive exists by targeting Area A alone.

For some of these incidents, quite possibly true. For Urban/Suburban areas of the Bay Area? Wrong targets for destroying MJ crops.

How would a community or neighborhood be served by keeping locals ignorant to black-clad Antifa or Hispanic Supremacists wandering the highways or hills and starting fires?

How would the principle of See Something, Say Something be forwarded by censoring the news so that large numbers of people don't even know what to look for, know that the threat even exists?

I guess we will need to ask the Antifa-supporting communists running the news papers what their plan is. Or just shoot them (after a trial, of course).

Here is one case (Arsonist Alfredo Bautista) of Journalists doing their job. But then there is not any follow up.:

Unfortunately living in LA at the moment. The neighborhoods that are being torched are all in the red-leaning areas, which tend to be wealthy (but not oligarch wealthy) and traditional. The most ostensible theory is that journos only care when things happen to them/their lot, or pushes their ideas of victimhood. They just don't care about upper middle class, Republican, mostly-nuclear families.

Thanks. The truest thing about Communists that I have come to understand is that they actually don't care about "people". They just care about talking about caring about people and the more abstract that talk-talk is, the better they like it and the more passionate they become.
